

Terms and Conditions.....To participate in Loveland Online Auctions, You must first Register for a Bidders Number by clicking on the Register to Bid button. A Credit Card is Required to be on file.. Payments can be made in person on scheduled pick up dates and times with cash only, and no additional fees will be charged.. Items not picked up on scheduled dates and times will be charged to winning bidders Credit Card with no chargebacks accepted....Items not picked up at site will be charged to your credit card and forfeited and will result in your account being suspended and your items being forfeited.. Credit card information must be submitted during registration in order to bid...During Registration, You will be asked to agree to our Sale Terms and Conditions which will be listed under Sale Details on the first page of every active sale...Bidding Instructions: Once you are Registered to Bid, your Bidder Number will be sent to you via email. Your Password will not be included in the email, so please make a note of it while completing Registration. If you forget your Password, you can have a reminder sent to you via email by entering your registered email address in the box provided....Once Registered, click on the Home page tab and then click on the active auction to bid.. You can also check out past auctions by clicking on any available auction on our home page...Good Luck bidding..

Buyer's Contract: Your internet Bids are a Legal Binding Contract and you are Responsible for honoring them... Deadlines and Closing for Internet Bidding: Items will begin to close at the rate of three (3) items per minute at the Scheduled Date and End Time of the online Sale, and will sell to the winning internet Bidder at that time. Items will close in the order listed on the lolonlineauctions.com Website. All Sales feature an automatic extension system that allows a five minute extension to the end of any item that may receive a bid in the final few minutes of the sale. The item will close when the five minutes have elapsed without any further bidding...Item Descriptions: All items are sold AS IS-WHERE-IS...We do our absolute best to make sure that any obvious flaws are pointed out and that all items are exactly as described. However, we do not assume that our opinion will be the same as yours. Most of the items we sell are Antique, Vintage or Used items.Public Preview Inspections will be offered for the sole purpose of allowing you to see the items in person before placing a Bid. If there are any questions pertaining to Condition, please make arrangements to attend the preview and Bid accordingly...Payment Forms Accepted: Winning Bidders who will be picking up their items in person can pay for purchases during the designated pick-up and payment times listed on each Auction. We accept Cash, Checks, and most Major Credit Cards...Note: There will be a 4% Premium placed on all items purchased, 4% will be added to the total purchase price of all items..... Winning Bidders with questions on how to make payments should contact lolonlineauctions.com If you can not Pay for and pick-up items during specified times, Please Do Not Bid... Sales Tax: All sales are subject to Tax Laws. Vendors must provide the appropriate Vendors License Information prior to the end of sale. Once we receive your information, you will not be required to resend it for future sales unless requested by lolonlineauctions.com Shipping Liability: Although we will make every effort to pack and ship items safely and securely, lolonlineauctions.com does not assume responsibility for omissions in our packing or shipping...Purchaser of items assumes all responsibility...*Penalties: Items not Paid for and/or picked up on designated date and time, without prior arrangements for alternate payment and pick-up being made, will be forfeited and Resold.. Problems or Questions? Please Feel free to contact LoLonlineauctions.com anytime... 513-600-7999 or email LoLonlineauctions@gmail.com